For example they have Lexus from Men In Black and Terminator: Dark Fate which has the original Terminator 2 Motorcycle which for movie fans is the classic! - Food prices are acceptable and tastes good and staff are great and helpful despite busy show times. - A variety of different types of screens are available such as Theatre by Rhodes, IMAX and 4DX. - The cinema is located in the Mall of the Emirates so there are plenty of restaurants to choose from if you like to eat before. The only downer is that sometimes people tend to talk through films but this is a cultural thing rather than a cinematic issue. I think VOX can do a little more to try and encourage people not to do it. Overall it's a good cinematic experience and I recommend it... The manager did not put the signs for the price in each screen of the sign next to each visitor to let the customer decide if they would put or not according to what he had in his pocket instead of feeling shy in front of his visitors. for the management, make money with a professional way to avoid this kind of comments ... Having a free Friday afternoon I decided to treat myself to a visit to the Vox cinema complex and found a movie that I fancied to see displayed in the IMAX theater. I think I must get one of the few customers to pay cash and get a printed ticket. Everyone else seems to be using one form of electronic trading or another. I'm also one of the few viewers who doesn't care about the huge amount of fast food in this place. The choice of classic junk food offered here is impressive. The film itself, shown on a giant IMAX screen with a full sound feel surrounded, is amazing. The technical quality in such places today is out of this world. And I watched a colorful Disney movie that benefited from great quality. When the credits roll at the end everyone seems to leave quickly, leaving a whole pile of empty food packages of one kind or another. The cleaners definitely had something to do between performances...
